

Welcome address

by the Director General of Hermes - Air Transport Organisation at the The Latin America Air Transport Sector in the Post COVID-19 Era: Resilience and Efficiency Through Leadership and Cooperation (Zoom - 19 April 2021)

Dear participant,

Aviation has been globally facing its worst crisis since last year. With the vaccinations underway positive signs emerge and the economies around the world are preparing for a restart.

For this reason the theme of the event focuses on The Latin America Air Transport sector in the post COVID-19 era: Resilience and efficiency through Leadership and Cooperation. For the first time Hermes - Air Transport Organisation hosts an event in Latin America thanks to its cooperation with Aeronautica Civil de Colombia.

I would like to thank Juan Carlos Salazar, Director General of Aeronautica Civil de Colombia and Hermes member for co-organising this event; Professor Andreas Papatheodorou, Hermes Committee Member and the University of the Aegean, Greece for providing the Zoom platform; and finally ALA for being a media partner of the event.

Thank you.